

At just 3.9 pounds, Rani desperately needs the warmth of an incubator.
But the closest hospital is over 300 miles – and $20,000 – out of reach. 450 babies die every hour under similar circumstances. But Rani is lucky. The infant warmer he's nestled inside was invented to maintain his body temperature for 4-6 hours without electricity.
It will keep Rani alive and healthy.
His future will forever change thanks to an innovative device donated to his village from someone like you.
